

In The Silence

In the silence you will find,
you will know peace of mind.
In the silence there is a sacred place,
a secret meeting place, Love is there.
In the silence, where every color blends,
and every rainbow ends, God is there.

In the silence there is a golden light,
it's peaceful and it's bright, Love is there.
In the silence, I'm drawn into the light,
I see a better life, no more doubt and fear.

In the silence there is a still small voice,
it's giving me a choice between love and fear.
In the silence the streets are paved with gold,
and no one's growing old, and God is there.

In the silence you live in light of gold,
and all your dreams unfold, love is there.
In the silence where every color blends,
and every rainbow ends, God is there.
